AN EVENT NOT TO BE MISSED

After a COVID enforced absence Retail Destination Live: The Future Places conference, brought to you by Retail Destination and REVO, returns in July 2022!

This single day conference will feature a packed schedule focused on the four key areas our readers asked us to concentrate on:

- Management challenges in the post COVID era, covering security, service charge, leases and customer engagement.
- Innovation – we'll showcase the top innovations from across the industry.
- Sustainability – the key issue of our time will be considered with practical advice on the steps managers can take to ensure they are running a sustainable destination.
- The future – What does the future hold for destinations and how do we maximise the opportunities?

The networking and refreshment breaks will take place within the trade show room encouraging valuable conversations to take place.

The conference will be followed by a gala dinner allowing the opportunity to expand networks in a less formal environment.

These pages outline the sponsorship and exhibitor options available to the supply chain as well as the delegate packages available.

We look forward to seeing you all there!
